Student Re-Engagement Case Study

Birmingham City Schools - Birmingham, AL

The Dropout Recovery Program was the brain-child of Superintendent Craig Witherspoon, who said the traditional classroom setting is not for everyone. "As we know as adults, there is not a one-size-fits all," he said to the graduating class. "We need to offer choices and different settings. Because while all these students have potential, they were in a one-size-fits all setting that wasn't working."

"Grade Results has been very instrumental in changing the lives of our students, increasing our Cohort Graduation Rate and most importantly decreasing our dropout rate. Our students go on to two or four year institutions of higher learning, become gainfully employed or seek industry certification in high-wage, high-demand certificate fields. The instructors employed by Grade Results give the students the additional academic support they need to be successful and complete the program."
